

Good morning Mr. Drechsler,

I have been trying to get in contact with you, I tried calling your office but every time I call you have just stepped out. The reason for this email is to thank you, from the bottom of my heart for the donation that you made to me back in 2012. It does not go unnoticed and it will definitely never forgotten.

My name is Alba Molina and I am a laptop recipient from the Yonkers High School Class of 2012. I am emailing you four years later to thank you for donating this laptop which I am emailing you from right now. This laptop has been with me throughout my four years of college at Binghamton University where I studied Philosophy, Politics, Law; and Anthropology. After graduating from Binghamton, I shortly start working at a non-profit in Brooklyn called RBSCC, where I will be helping prevent homelessness, while also studying for the LSAT because I just recently decided I want to attend law school.

I have not reached the top yet but I am definitely headed there and it is in part because of you and your not-for-profit organization, and everyone else who have helped me along my journey.

Once again, thank you so much for this wonderful organization that helps many students who have faced many challenges like myself.

Best,
Alba Molina
